

RxBandits, Andrea

do you remember how you held her?
do you remember how you cried?
do you remember sayin never?
as she slowly dried your eyes.
i remember what i did then
and how i always felt inside happiness surrounds the others
every single day i die
what could you say now
all the stars cost so much do you remember when our scene was still so young and still so alive?
do you remember when i was happy?
so happy to arrive?
what could you say now
all the stars cost so much
my sense of touch!
i know the answer to this question
i know the answer to this rhyme
i know the answer to this riddle
its andrea every time.
do you remember what she said?
do you remember what she did?
i could never tear my heart for me to forgive
what could you say
when i just looked you in your eyes?
what could you say
because you knew you wanted to lie!
oh oh oh oh oh
retribution uniting of our nation
come on lets join this revolution come on and join in!
