

RxBandits, Nothing Sacred in our world's degradation we take for granted all we have and all that we were given when was the last time that you looked up gazed upon a shopping mall and said "how beautiful"

- chorus -

so one more time you hear my voice we are the youth you have the choice so use it wisely

they pave the world in concrete soon nothing will be natural but only artificial artificial and commercial, a superficial front for what is wrong: human parasite

- chorus -

where could we have ever gone so wrong nothing's sacred, nothing's sacred we're burning lands on consumer demands there is nothing sacred, nothing's sacred

- chorus -

let's bring it down by fire please don't give up
so go inside, go inside, go inside
