RxBandits, Nothing Sacred

in our world's degradation we take for granted all we have and all that we were given when was the last time that you looked up gazed upon a shopping mall and said "how beautiful" - chorus so one more time you hear my voice we are the youth you have the choice so use it wisely they pave the world in concrete soon nothing will be natural but only artificial artificial and commercial, a superficial front for what is wrong: human parasite - chorus where could we have ever gone so wrong nothing's sacred, nothing's sacred we're burning lands on consumer demands there is nothing sacred, nothing's sacred - chorus let's bring it down by fire please don't give up where could we have ever gone so wrong nothing's sacred, nothing's sacred we're burning lands on consumer demands there is nothing sacred, nothing's sacred so go inside, go inside, go inside
