

Ryan Adams, Born Into A Light

For everything that's wrong
There is a worried man
There is a reason why
We just don't understand but will...
You got to keep the faith

Be patient, oh the past
Is just a memory, and heal
Heal your vines, you'll heal inside eventually

We were born into a light
We were born a light
We were born into a light

For everyone alone I wish you faith and hope
And all the strength to cope
To be your own best friend
Have confidence and keep the faith

Be patient, oh the past
Is just a memory, and heal
Heal your vines, you'll heal inside eventually

We were born into a light
We were born into a light
We were born a light
We were born into a light
(The Lights, The Lights....
Not the lights)
