

Ryan Adams, Turn Around

want to cross
but i don't think i can
it's too weak here
even where i stand
come here darlin'
let me see you hold my hand so we can mend your broken halo

all i want from you
when, all i want from you
is for you to turn around
turn around

wanted damage
so i damaged it some we used to have it all
now i just got some
the silence, perfections, mysteries all easy to fall from your lips all the while lies were told to me in shapeless secrets

can't you surrender to the distance and the damage still between us and the walls to the buildings are the dreams that will keep us}

can't you turn around
why can't you turn around?
turn around
turn around
