Ryan Adams, What Sin

Tell me what sin replaces love I wanna know, right now Tell me what sin replaces love I wanna know, right now

Imagine yourself on a mountain Mountain discovered with flowers Flowers discolored with horses Horses distracted by stones Stone distrusted with me Then you might know what I mean 'Cause I want to kick love right in its gut Beat it and leave for dead Wash my hands in the river Lie down and die in your bed

(repeat 1st and 2nd verses)

The voice on the receiver Baby cry howlin' in the wind I don't wanna beg for your mercy I wanna know right know, what sin

Tell me what sin replaces love
