

Ryan Shupe & The RubberBand, My Life

I've tried to civil, I've tried to be nice Well I can take it maybe once or twice now
But I can only turn the other cheek for so long There comes a time when I've got to be strong Sometimes you gotta sit back and take a little more But this time I'll stand up and be accounted for

Cause it's my life and I will fight
I've got my back against the wall this is a do or die time
I haven't come this far just to throw in the towel now
And you can mark my words
there's nothing you can say or do to make me change my mind sometimes wrong is wrong and right is right and I will fight yeah

I believe in being patient, I believe in love
But I believe in pushing back when push comes to shove I'm tired of all this good cop bad cop bull crap It's time to sit down and shut your big yap yeah That's right I'm declaring war It's time to stand up and be accounted for

Cause it's my life and I will fight
I've got my back against the wall this is a do or die time
I haven't come this far just to throw in the towel now
And you can mark my words
there's nothing you can say or do to make me change my mind
sometimes wrong is wrong and right is right
and I will fight yeah

you can try to break my legs to run and my will to live you can try to take my heart to love and my spirit to give you can try to hold me down try to break my back but there's nothing gonna change my mind now I will return with my counterattack

Cause it's my life and I will fight
I've got my back against the wall this is a do or die time
I haven't come this far just to throw in the towel now
And you can mark my words
cause it's my life and I will fight
there's nothing you can say or do to make me change my mind
sometimes wrong is wrong and right is right
and I will fight yeah
