S Club, Everybody Wants You

i get this feeling as you walk away a million hearts will break in two but they don't know the games that you can play so they always follow you every time you move everybody grooves i can't help feeling it's alright you just gotta walk see the people talk i like to watch you party cos everybody wants you when everybody sees ya the world is full of dreamers but i'm a great believer and i'm no fool cos i got you i see the way you act like you don't know there's something bout your attitude and it don't matter how far you go cos i'm the one that's going home with you you just gotta bump see the people jump i can't help feeling it's alright when you do your thing everybody sings they like to watch you party

i just wind you up and let you go and i watch you in wonder to see the look upon your face i'd say you already know chorus to fade
