

Sabrina Carpenter, We're The Babysitters

Hello, my name is Jenny Parker and these kids are my crew
We're in a lot of trouble and I'm not sure what to do
See it all started, when our phones made a switch
Lola lied to the parents, she's been a real witch
Kid snuck out, the kitchen caught fire
The car got towed, all because she's a liar

Now these bad guys are chasing us

We almost just died

I got a tattoo
Can you that one slide

This girl is ruining my life, my job, my reputation
And if we ever get home, I'm gonna need a vacation
But no matter what, I won't be a quitter
Gonna care for these kids, cause I'm a ba-by-sitter

She ain't no quitter
She's the babysitter

Hold up just a minute, that's not the straight scoop
This girl's so uptight, she's all tied in a loop

Uh, let's rewind this movie an hour or two
The kid snuck out, I didn't have a clue (Yeah, that's true)
Okay I admit it, I don't follow rules
I'm not good with kids, I'm not good at school
It wasn't my plan to steal a car
Or end up in jail or take it this far
It's true, I lied, but nobody's died
And these kids are having an incredible ride

You think you know it all, but you don't know me
See I'm more than just, Miss Spelling Bee

Wanna be a real artist take pictures get gritty
On your first night out in the big bad city
You're a cool girl Jenny, but I'm pretty cool too
In fact I'm just as great a babysitter as you, ha

She's right. I'm smart and I do follow rules
I work real hard, and I care about school
There's a time for fun, to let go and climb trees
But I am a real artist, everybody say "Cheese."

We ain't no quitters
We're the babysitters
We ain't no quitters
We're the babysitters
We're the babysitters
