

SafetySuit, Stay

Walking out the door this morning wondering what it is that's going on with you
Thinking of a way to say I'm sorry for something I'm not sure I do

So come on baby let me in and show me what this really is cause
Something must have made you say that, what did I do to make you say that to me
Something must have made you so mad, what can I do to make you say come back to me
Hoping for a moment that I turn around and you'll be coming after me
Cause all that I can say is that it's obvious, it's obvious you're all I see

So come on baby let me in and show me what this really is about
Cause I can't read you

Come on baby let me in and show me what this really is cause
Something must have made you say that, what did I do to make you say that to me
Something must have made you so mad, what can I do to make you say come back to me
And I'll be here in the morning if you say stay, if you say stay to me
(3x)

Something must have made you say that, what did I do to make you say that to me
Something must have made you so mad, what can I do to make you say come back to me
(2x)
