Sam Roberts, Fixed To Ruin

I'm fixed to ruin
You're fixed on me
We could change positions, honey
With no guarantee

Sun down in a southern town
Then it came the rain
I saw you in a different light
You saw me just the same

She can dance like she got no bones
I forget
I'm all alone

My wicked ways
They might be here to stay
You've been turning my head 'round, baby
With the things you say and the tricks you're playing
What I'd do for you
Sends me off the rails
End up in the jailhouse, baby, for a night with you under a moon so pale

Southeaster blowing
From dusk till dawn
Honey, where I'm going
Oh the streets are mean and the guns are drawn

She can dance like she got no bones
I forget
I'm all alone

(ooohhh) I'd give it up for you
(ooohhh) If you want me to
I been a lonely man but you're bringin' me back
Oh you're bringin' me back now
I been a lonely man but you're bringin' me back
Oh you're bringin' me back now
And what I learn from you
Is that history's just things we do
Oh what I learn from you
Is that history is just the things we do

Ooohhhhhhh

I'm fixed to ruin
You're fixed on me
We can change positions, baby
With no guarantee

It's gonna be alright now honey
Make no mistake, now
There ain't no amount of money
Could ever take my place

She can dance like she got no bones
I forget
I'm all alone

She can dance like she got no bones
I forget
I'm all alone

Oooooohhhhhhh
