Samiam, Tag Along

tag along baby girl close behind tender sweet tag along little feet all is well within your world don't believe all you hear never fear never fear shut your mouth Tag Along

she's too young for that she don't know, don't know, don't know not yet
shut your mouth
she's too young for that
she don't know, don't know,
i never even said a word but she can see right through my eyes still too young to understand should you go, should you go there should you go, should you go now everything, everything's alright everything, everything's just fine.
