

Sanctus Real, Thank You

There are new horizons with colors that I've never seen
The sky is filled with graces since you have carried me
I felt so far beyond your reach, but you gave everything for me
I was lost but you rescued my life

[Chorus:]

Why in the world did you come after me?

Thank you, thank you

Words aren't enough, but for now I can say

Thank you, thank you

There is hope rising 'cause you have strength I've never seen

And your eyes are shining 'cause you shed tears for me

I was miles from dry land, but you gave everything you had

I can't understand a love of this kind

[Chorus:]

I could find other lines that you haven't heard spoken over and over again

I've tried every way, but I keep landing on that simple phrase

So I'll keep singing, "thank you";

[Chorus:]
