

Sanctus Real, You Can't Hide

When you're feeling all alone and you've got no friends on the phone
When you've reached your all time low, He'll be around
In your car, in the streets, He's everywhere you are He's alive and He'll always find you
When you're down He's around and He knows...
Of all the places you can go, you will never be alone
Of all the places you could find, there is nowhere you can hide
When you think you've escaped He's right beside you
When you sleep, when you wake, in the midst of your heartbreaks
He is there, and he knows
Make no mistake, He'll be around
Make no mistake, He'll be around
