

Sara Hickman, Lily

Lily, I love you, I do
Yes, I'll always be true
I've been true to you here in my heart
Lily, I love you, I do
Yes, I'll always be true
I've been true to you here from the start
Here is your hand, it's so tiny in mine
With your eyes full of God's wonderous light
As I kiss your soft head, I will hold you so tight
While I whisper, time after time:
Lily, I love you, I do
Yes, I'll always be true
I've been true to you here in my heart
Oh Lily, I love you, I do
Yes, I'll always be true
I've been true to you here from the start
Oh, where did you come from, sweet angel of love?
You descended from heaven on wings from above
When you smile I remember what I'm thinking of These moments, where I long to say:
Lily, I love you, I do
Yes, I'll always be true
I've been true to you here in my heart
Oh Lily, I love you, I do
Yes, I'll always be true
I've been true to you here from the start
There's a world to be shared, and so much we will do
Baby mine
And life will unfold its secrets to you in time
Lily, I love you, I do
Yes, I'll always be true
I've been true to you here in my heart
Lily, I love you, I do
Yes, I'll always be true
I've been true to you here from the start
