

Sara Jaroszyk, Love Unfound

I don't know what I am looking for Haven't found it baby that is for sure
I feel like I am losing my mind
Round and round I go.

As life takes every step to evolve
And time knows how to keep moving on
Just as day follows every night
I won't stop I know.

With fire, fire in my eyes
Dancing, dancing through the skies.

Brother, I've been searching for love too long
I said brother, with every minute I crave for more
I said brother, I never thought that I would lose my ground
Brother and now I'm losing it one more time, I am losing my mind.

Searching for love too long.

As lies cannot find a way to the truth
And hate never knew the language of love
Just as sure is a feeling I hold
Deep inside my soul.

With fire, fire in my eyes
Dancing, dancing through the skies.

Brother, I've been searching for love too long
I said brother, With every minute I crave for more
I said brother, I never thought that I would lose my ground
Brother and now I'm losing it one more time
I am losing my mind, I'm losing my mind, I am losing my mind, I am losing my mind.

Searching for love too long.
