

Sara Jaroszyk, The End Of Time

What is your story?
I'd like to hear
What you believe in?
What do you think?
Cause I can say you're a dreamer
Living in some place of countless meanings.

Let's runaway, leave the world behind
The endless road and both our hearts

Join me in this crazy race that we call life
Embrace me to your heart
Color me your colors
Define all the parts
Let me love you till the end of time
Let me love you till the end of time

What do you seek for?
What is your goal?
Are you're a stranger?
Am I your toy?
Still I can say you're a dreamer
Living in some place of countless meanings.

Sometimes the world seems black and white
But you can see its other side.

Join me in this crazy race that we call life
Embrace me to your heart
Color me your colors
Define all the parts
Let me love you till the end of time.

So close your eyes and scream into the skies
Feel it all around, now trust me
I'll love you till the end of time
Let it be, let it be, let it be
Let it be, let it be, let it be
Let it be, let it be, let it be
Let it be.

Now join me in this crazy race that we call life
Embrace me to your heart
Color me your colors
Define all the parts
Let me love you till the end of time,
Let me love you till the end of time
Till the end , till the end of time.
