

Sarah Blasko, (Explain)

Oh there's a funny light in the stars tonight. You and I were right
All the factories, all the memories have changed will you work it out? Will you see that I'm going no
I don't know where you think you'll start again, but I...
I know in all we've said, I finally know how it began. It's nothing I can even explain
Do we begin tonight? Is it a righteous fight? The sentiments not right
Will you work out? Will you sell it all to find me?
All the weapons are finally coming out now you see that I only wanted to have it out with you. Rem
Warm but in the coldest light you see
You see what you want and you break it off, find it somewhere else
You say that our love is only mapped...
Oh look above you now, there's a heavy cloud hanging over us
All the factories, all infirmaries are closed. Do you wake at night wishing you'd relied on someone e
I don't know what you think you'll find again, but I...
I know all we've said. I've finally found where I'll begin it's somewhere I can't even explain