Sarah Brightman, Only An Ocean Away

I see a shadow every day and night.
I walk a hundred streets of neon lights,
Only when I'm crying.
Can you hear me crying.
So many times you always wanted more,
Chasing illusions that you're longing for.
Wish I wasn't crying.
Can you hear me crying.

There's an ocean between us. You know where to find me. You reach out and touch me. I feel you in my own heart. More than a lifetime. Still goes on forever. But it helps to remember You're only an ocean away.

Was there a moment when I felt no pain. I want to feel it in my life again. Let it be over now. Oh Oh over now. 'Cause I remember all the days and nights We used to walk the streets of neon lights Oh I want you here with me. Oh be here with me.

There's an ocean between us. You know where to find me. You reach out and touch me. I feel you in my own heart. More than a lifetime Still goes on forever. But it helps to remember You're only an ocean away.

So many times you always wanted more, Chasing illusions that you're longing for. Wish I wasn't crying. Can you hear me crying.

There's an ocean between us. You know where to find me. Just reach out and touch me. I feel you in my own heart. More than a lifetime It seems like forever. But I'll always remember You're only an ocean away.

Only an ocean away.
