

Sarah Brightman, Something In The Air

Deep within your mind you have been blind
Look around and find,
There's something in the air

Sometimes I can read it in your eyes
Keep the dream alive
There's something in the air

Don't know why the truth becomes a lie,
Makes me wanna cry
There's something in the air

So we're gonna try the tears of pain,
Worshiping the rain
There's something in the air

And I can feel it, oh yeah
Oh, I can feel it, everywhere

There is something in the Air
Our tears will dry tomorrow
No more pain or sorrow
There's something in the Air (2x)
All the darkness turns to sunlight
The dawning hits the moonlight
There's something in the Air

We can heal the wounds of time together,
It'll be forever
There's something in the Air

I can feel the love that I desire,
Come on take me higher
There's something in the Air

And I can feel it, oh yeah
And I can feel it everywhere
