

Sarah Masen, The Valley

When it seems that darkness covers you
In the valley
I'll pray the kingdom comes soon
When daylight is a distant memory
In the valley
I'll pray that Jesus comes soon

In the valley
In the valley

Try not to be afraid for long if you can help it
In the valley
I'll send you a picture of my little girl
And like a flower you can burst forth smiling
Even in the valley
Still, I'll pray that Jesus comes soon

In the valley
In the valley
In the valley
In the valley Ah Ah Ah Ah

When it seems that you have nothing left to offer but your sorrow
Remember where there is grace there is no shame
And as it happens light has nowhere else to happen but
The valley
And maybe something's trying to break through
