

Saturnus, A Poem (Written In Moonlight)

As I stand here in the dead of night I am embraced by a soft purple light
It is not a christian light but deep and soft like dark wisdom to the fool but beware!!!
Like wisdom details come with time and everything appears so fine it is no damnation burning up your eyes where you see god and nothing else but a soft light soft like a wise womans cloak Dark
Deep
Purple
Blue
Drped and flecked with silver tears
I see the lovely temple without fears...
Waiting in eternity
