

Savage Garden, Memories Are Designed To Fade

I'd never let you down when you're in a fix
I'd come running when you call
That's my weakness baby
So connected are we
You get your kicks from the ghost of a memory
So busy turning away from reality baby
That you just won't let it go
But memories fade
Yeah they're designed that way
But you're so wrapped up in her you don't see straight
Watch her mangle the truth while you take the bait
So tell me can't you see?
You're just turning yourself inside out for no need
This thing you're using is worse than a photograph
It picks you up and it turns you inside out now baby
And it just won't let you go
But memories fade
Yeah they're designed that way
She doesn't love you anymore
Maybe she did long ago
You're just a slave to the grind that she grew tired of baby
So tell me can't you see?
You're just turning yourself inside out for no need
But memories fade
Cause they're designed that way
She doesn't love you anymore
Maybe she did long ago
You're just a slave to the grind that she grew tired of baby
So tell me can't you see?
You're just turning yourself
You're just turning yourself inside out for no need
You're just turning yourself inside out for no need
