Savatage, Alone You Breathe (Criss's Song)

You were never one for waiting Still I always thought you'd wait for me Have you from your dreams awakened And from where you are what do you see

Which of us is now in exile Which in need of amnesty Are you now but an illusion In my mind alone you breathe

You believed in things that I will never know You were out there drowning but it never showed Till inside a rain swept night you just let go

You've thrown it all away And now we'll never see The ending of the play The grand design The final line And what was meant to be

In the dark a distant runner Now has disappeared into the night Leaving us to stand and wonder Staring from this end into your life

You believed in things that I will never know You were out there drowning but it never showed Till inside a rain swept night you just let go

You've thrown it all away And now we'll never see The ending of the play The grand design The final line And what was meant to be

And if this is an illusion Nothing more than pure delusion Clinging to a fading fantasy

Like Icarus who heeds the calling Of a sun but now is falling As the feathers of his life fall free Can you see See

Tomorrow
And after
You tell me what am I to do
I stand there
Believing
That in the dark
There is a clue

Perhaps inside
This midnight sky
Perhaps tomorrow's new born eyes
Or then again
We'll never know
And after all
This was the show

What am I to do

Gotta get back Gotta get back Gotta get back

What am I to do

Gotta get back Gotta get back Gotta get back

What am I to do

Standing on a dream Isn't what it seems Could wethe reclaim a dream refused Knowing what we know Could we let it go Realizing that all the years are used

Tomorrow
And after
You tell me what am I to do
I stand here
Believing
That in the dark
There is a clue

I am the way
I am the light
I am the dark inside the night
I hear your hopes
I feel your dreams
And in the dark I hear your screams

Tomorrow
And after
You tell me what am I to do
I stand here
Believing
That in the dark
There is a clue...
