

Saves The Day, Kaleidoscope

I wake up knowing that you're gone
Letter left inside the door
I stare through the window waiting

How would I ever save
Those hearts I cannot erase

Look out, saw it come on your face
It's frozen there each time I blink
It's my kaleidoscope of pain

How would I ever save
Those hearts I cannot erase

And now

If you never gonna come back home

So I give in to the pain that eats me from within

How would I ever save
Those hearts I cannot erase

How would I ever save
