

Saves The Day, Turning Over In My Tomb

So now I'm stuck under the boards
No room to run, not anymore
I'm left to die here all alone
Or choose to live now on my own
I reach my hand above the ground
And feel for a root to pull me out
Now there is nothing I can do

I'm turning over in my tomb [x2]

When I get my feet out on the ground
I notice there ain't no one around

Everybody go home
To hope to hide from the ghosts
But they're living all alone

Stars are finally falling down
The trees reach up from underground
I'll never be the man you want
I'll never give you what you need
The only thing I wish I'd said
Is sorry for the things I've said
Now there is nothing I can do

I'm turning over in my tomb [x2]
