Saxon, Beyond the Grave

Beyond The Grave

Are you standing on your own
When the darkness closes in
Can you hear the voices calling from within
Do you see the spirit world
Like a cold and frightened child
Or is your imagination running wild

Is there anybody out there We're waiting for a sign Calling to the afterlife Is anybody there

Beyond the grave

On a breath of cold night air The candle starts to dim When shadows dance the walls start closing in Does your fear begin to rise

Are you paralysed with fright Can they hear you screaming in the night Is there anybody out there We're waiting for a sign

Calling to the afterlife

Is anybody there

Beyond the grave
