

Say Anything, Joel On Other Planets

I may not be the best brother
But I try to teach him pride
I hide my paraphernalia when he climbs into my ride

I watch him watching my actions
With those beautiful brown eyes
I will be glad to pass the torch to him the day I up and die.
Cause he's a better man then I

Pray for love on other planets
We can't be the only ones who have it
Pray for love on other planets
This ones going down

I may not be the best lover
I am full of my false ideals
Those who fail to meet them
I treat like crap beneath my heal

But I know my own narcissism
I'll take it right out of the clouds
I got a few years left to find someone to nail me to the ground
I sure hope they come around

Yeah

Pray for love on other planets
We can't be the only ones who have it
Pray for love on other planets
This ones going down
Going down
Going down
Going down

Pray for love on other planets
We can't be the only ones who have it [x3]
Pray for love on other planets
This ones going down
