

Say Hi To Your Mom, Yeah, I'm In Love With An Android

Her kisses are metallic and her touch is firm but cold.
And I don't think she sleeps at night,
but plugs into the wall.
And we have a great relationship,
based on things that can't be said.
And she has a great relationship with our television set.

Chorus:

And, yeah, I'm in love with an android, but so what?
Stranger things have happened,
stranger things have been loved.

The neighbors are an odd bunch and they're too inquisitive.
They don't like heavy metal, or the type she shacks up with.
But I swore I'm done with humans and I like to keep my word.
And she beeps for me every time
it's time to go water the fern.