

Saybia, A Kind Of Eden

A kind of eden - Saybia Look through my eyes behind my disguise and you'll find a place with no grace all there is left in this colorless room is the echo of sadness and blue hidden in a corner behind all the tears is a green spot with no fear it's a garden, a kind of eden where I have spent most of my life dreaming you'll find me here on my colorfull trees back in the flowers of my destiny My futures are here but my past will remain to are giving the flowers of yesterdays pain I'm nursing the truth of the season portecting my own illusion but it s so hard to take care of something that ain't really there, really there you'll find me here on my colorfull trees
back in the flowers of my destiny
to are giving the flowers of yesterdays pain
you'll find me here on my colorfull trees
back in the flowers of my destiny
it's just my way to goodbye
back in the flowers of my destiny
to are giving the flowers of yesterdays pain
you'll find me here on my colorfull trees
back in the flowers of my destiny
to are giving the flowers of yesterdays pain for me it is just a kind of eden
