Saybia, Save Me

Im a kleptomaniac, and I am I proud to say that I was once a hypochondriac As well so tell me what to do ooh Im scared of going outside coz I could catch a cold, Ill catch another's cold Im desperate to be arrested coz Im so unsure of what I might do Save me, before I break the law again God save me before I make another sin Now Im getting treated for my mental illnesses And every night I lock the door to my little lover self But I forgot to tell Im also claustrophobic Save me, save me before my head explodes Save me, save me so I can break my mental code Now Im starting to get well, But still i'm scared coz every time I see her child I get erections So please, save me, save me before my head explodes Now save me, so I can break my mental code Now save me, save me before I break the law Oh save me so I can break my mental code (my mental code) Save me from myself, Save me, God save me from myself Oh won't you save me?
