

Saybia, The Miracle In July

She's so fine
She grows in their minds
into the light she conquers the world a moment so wonderful a diamond so precious a beauty beyond compare. She's so fine She grows in their minds, they look into her eyes and feel so surprised as she crawls under their skin they're ready to die for the miracle in July
She's so fine
She grows in their minds
She speaks no words but they know what she says just by looking into her eyes It's just a God given gift that they instantly get just by looking into her eyes They don't have to wait for her no longer
They don't have to wait for her no more
