

Scarface, Girl You Know

[samples of "Because I Love You" by Lenny Williams]

Awww baby!

O-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-ohhhh!

[Scarface: in background]

Yeah

What do you mean, "Where am I at"

Tck! I'ma call you back

[Chorus 2X: samples]

Girl you know... (Awww!)

Girl you know I-iii-iiiih

Girl you know I-iii-iiiih love you (Awww baby!)

[Scarface]

I think if Adam would of had another squeeze he might not have ate those fruits from the leaves of light

Far as Eve, we could of been the more deceiving wife

Seeing the nigga had a weak spot and she was right

I just call it how I see it, she in love with him

And he in love too, and still be fking all of them

Can you imagine you in lock with one breeze for life?

Waking up in the morning and laying down the night with the same face looking at you all the time

Realizing now that happiness was hard to find

You wanna go out and try to find that smile and face

Plus she's always mad, and her sex ain't great

And she don't suck dick like she used to do

Force a nigga into trying to find him something new

And on the real, I done seen it when it went like this

But girl there's one thing happening that you can't forget

[Chorus]

[Scarface]

But you can never be my main boo, we can remain cool

But we can't be seen and for this I can blame you

Because you got more miles than a F-350

You been ran through, and I know for a fact you got history

But since we met, I've been hearing your name in certain circles

Pussy got a snap like a turtle

And you can catch a nigga on the late night

Coming out the club, half drunk off Remy and Sprite

You make a man out of your clit, that's how you handle the dick

It's unlike no other, she a bad motherfker

But I'm too strong to let a hoe undercover make me look fked up, because unlike those others

I done met a lot of freaky girls in my lifespan

So you can't get mad because I am not your man

Your under-standing was bad, it was not my plan for you to fall in love with me, girl it's not like that

[Chorus]

[Scarface]

For me to say that, "I do," would be a lie because I don't believe no woman is right for me so I won't

Try to talk myself into thinking she is

And if she leaves me for this, that's just one less bitch

And trust me, I tried to be a one woman man

But for every one woman, there's a man, home man

Saying, "Damn, I done spent six years in this shit

the first two was cool and then the bitch just flipped"
And then that's it, had to make some new plans
'Cause your brand new woman got a brand new man
And you're hurt all along, steady hitting her phone
But a bigger dick and longer bank roll, she gone
And if I ever say, "Maybe," and you thought that I might You consider, just imagine what my wife was like
And if you ain't love my kids like you loved your own
And me unconditionally when I was wrong, I was gone
