

Scaterd Few, Run If You Can

Walk the walk and you'll live on your knees
Compromise and you'll flirt with disaster
One step forward and the day you can seize
Live the lie and you're sure to expire

Talk the walk and you'll die on your knees
Realize you're in need of a master
Two steps back and you're sure to repeat the test

Walk the talk and you cure the disease
Be unwise and your enemies prosper
Two steps Forward and the rest is a breeze
Live to die and you're off to the slaughter

Talk the walk and your flesh will appease
Peel disguise and you're no longer fodder
Two steps back and I'm sure you'll agree
Even the flys that counsil are liars

Run if you can
Run if you can
Run if you can again

Walk the talk and you'll live on your knees
Compromise and you'll flirt with disaster
Two steps forward and the rest is a breeze
Live to die and you're off to the slaughter

Run if you can
Run if you can
Run if you can again.

Stop.
