Scepter, Payback's A Bitch

You try so hard to convince us you are true
Well let me tell you we are looking right through you
Everything you say you hate is what you are Popularity and lies can take you far
Buying bullet belts and bootleg Sodom shirts
Confirms you seek approval, but it don't prove you're worth
Only you can tell what you have got inside
You can run from us, but from yourself you can't hide
You've given us all the ammo that we need
When you whore the past you make my heart bleed
Don't blame me when you don't get what you wish
'Cause when it all blows up you'll realize
Payback's a bitch
