Screw, My Creazy Life

Nothing's really expected Opposed and underrated But we'll be over as potentially as we can Can we amend and do this thing together For life is something simple Its the hope that springs again Who's gonna be the first to hold onto their stone Admit they are mistaken leave sin alone Who's gonna be the last after the stone cold cast To leave friends behind to much to ask Why can't you see whats coming? Thinking of saying somthing Sometimes a shock will find perspectives In ourselves Pretentious oversights I can see it every night Underlying values occuying too much time Who's gonna be the first to hold onto their stone Admit they are mistaken leave sin alone Who's gonna be the last after the stone cold cast To leave friends behind to much to ask What we do says where that we go And friends can be so many real so hard if any
