Seabound, Smoke

We are addicted Addicted to your habits We are distressed when You're not around

Keep the fire burning Keep the smoke coming (Smoke)

Our days are wasted If we don't receive your comfort You cast a spell You silence every sound

Brothers become enemies Prepared for any felony Craving for felicity Ready for atrocity

You strike a match and you smile And all I can do Is smile together with you

You lace the wine with a single tear You are the force I used to fear

The smell of gas is spreading Yet all I can do Is keep on smoking with you

Your eyes sparkle, you're sincere You are the force I used to fear

Lost in reverie I dream of sights I will never see

We are enchanted By your need of protection Soft and fragile Sensitive ground

Keep the fire burning Keep the smoke coming (Smoke)

We are bewitched By your deep understanding And we will defend The security we found

(You silence every sound)

Brothers become enemies Ready for atrocity

You strike a match and you smile And all I can do Is smile together with you

You lace the wine with a single tear You are the force I used to fear

The smell of gas is spreading Yet all I can do

Is keep on burning for you

Your eyes sparkle, you're sincere You are the force I used to fear

Lost in reverie I dream of sights I will never see I dream of words I will never hear You are the force I used to fear
