Seabound, Travelling

Every day I travel
To keep my mind quiet in its cage
Every night I'm dancing
With the images I generate

What moves my soul? Where do I go?

Restless I keep searching To understand the madman's heart

I'm wandering the streets of pain Taking the confusion Shed my skin, adore the rain Merge in the illusion

There's no use denying
The truth beyond our anxious lies
Paradise is fiction
And love's a desperate compromise

We will burn Feel the fascination You will learn

I'm wandering the streets of pain Taking the confusion Shed my skin, adore the rain Merge in the illusion

We're walking down the streets of pain Sharing the confusion Leave your home, forget your name Merge in the illusion
