

Second Chance, Which Burns More

why can't I win

just let yourself go in all of your glory i'll keep you with me in all of your beauty

if I was the one to say goodbye i'd say it so slowly just soft enough to make you cry yourself to sleep
every night with out me by yourside because you're nothing with out me you're nothing so i'll go on repeating you these few words because if you want it that's how bad it hurts to say which burns more to stay or to walk away because you were the one to say goodbye you said it so slowly just soft enough to make me cry myself to sleep

every night with out you by my side because i'm nothing with out you i'm nothing and i'm searching for the words to say to you like i love you and i need you yet you won't get the clue and your green eyes will turn these brown eyes blue and i'm nothing

i'm nothing with out you

why can't I win