

See Spot Run, Alone

Waiting in my electric chair
Knowing I haven't a prayer
Don't cry, I know I've let you down
Trying to turn my life around

I don't want to put you through this hell
All that I ever wanted was to make Our dreams come true cause I love you
You gave me all your love then I ran away

All that I ever believed was I was right
And you were wrong
Now I'm alone.

Wasted, strung out on despair
Knowing, I can't face the glare
Tempted, I chose to believe
Now I am alone to grieve
