

Seether, World Falls Away

Must be something they're hiding
Must be reasons that no one will dare to tell
Must be something inside me
But I don't think so anymore
It's hurting again now
And I don't need friends when I have foes like you
It's hurting again now
It's killing me to be here all alone
There's more for me
Go away
It's all the same
There's more for me

As the world falls away, and I can't find a reason
As the world turns to grey
It's killing me unwillingly and I am just the same as you

Must be something confided
Must be some way to feel the pain and heal again
Pain and pleasure, inviting
I don't think so anymore
It's hurting again now
And I don't need pills
When I have drugs like you
It's hurting again now
It's killing me to be here all alone

Go away
It's all the same
There's more for me
As the world falls away, and I can't find a reason
As the world turns to grey
It's killing me unwillingly and I am just afraid
As the world falls away, and I can't find a reason
As the world turns to grey
Your killing me unwillingly and I am just the same as you.... As you!

I'm just like you, just not a fool
I'm just like you, just not as cool
I'm just like you, just not a fool
I'm just like you....

As the world falls away, and I can't find a reason
As the world turns to grey
It's killing me unwillingly and I am just afraid
As the world falls away, and I can't find a reason
As the world turns to grey
Your killing me unwillingly and I am just the same as you
I'm just like you, just not a fool
I'm just like you...
Shut up!
