

Sentenced, May Today Become The Day

Rain trumps the lifeless ground
Drops as cold as Ice
The doors breaking
The trench are shaking
The fire hits us all around
When the siren cries
Forward, forward we go into attack!

May today become the day
As I plunge into the grave
Let it slide in
All the signs are there
They all think that I'm brave
The strongest link of our chain
But really I gotta say that ain't how it's like

Closing in, I'm slowing down warren fire, blood our lines breaking and death is taking
All our men from all around
Into pools of mud
Forward, forward, there is no turning back!

May today become the day
As I plunge into the grave
Let it slide in
All the signs are there
They all think that I'm brave
The strongest link of our chain
But really I gotta say that ain't not how it's like

The fallback calling as the soldiers keep falling Forward, forward, I am not turning back!

May today become the day
As I plunge into the grave
Let it slide in
All the signs are there
They all think that I'm brave
The strongest link of our chain
But really I just wanna go back between my eyes
Aim high
