

Sentenced, Shadegrown

I have dwelled in the dark so long that I have become the night Here only the chilling Northwind can give warmth to my life

There comes the morning light and brings the pain
...slashing my heart
It goes by slowly and makes the pain last forever
...it tears me apart

I'm drowning in this light
I'm dying, it's so bright
I have lived in the shades
- Make the Glow go away

Come cast your shadow over me
and I'll cast mine all over thee
Take me away, into the shades
where there is no light of day (to harm my way)

Come with me and we'll flee from this world across the nightly sky Believe me, you'll be free as we take our ride on the darkside

I'm drowning in this light
I'm dying, it's so bright
I have lived in the shades
- Make the Glow go away

Come cast your shadow over me
and I'll cast mine all over thee
Take me away, into the shades
where there is no light of day

Come cast your shadow over me
I'll give you immortality Let's walk away, into the shades
where there is no light of day

To Harm Our Way
