

Sentenced, Under The Suffer

First came the wind, dark clouds and the storm
Then came the snow which covered the ground white

We saw them descending from clouds from the Bloodred Sky We just stood there and watched as they came, saw and conquered

This beautiful sight made us blind with joy we welcomed the intruder as immigrants for their dominion like an epidemic Virus that spread over our homes It came like a cold wind and took away everything

In the ruins we stood with the living ones We saw them raping our women and killing our children