

September, It Doesn't Matter

And ooo, it doesn't matter what you do
and hey, it doesn't matter what you say
'Cause you are invisible to the world
And ooo, it doesn't matter what you do

Whatever happened to dreams of old
Where do you start when there's nowhere to go
Caught in the middle without a choice
You're dying to speak but you have no voice

'Cause you are a creature without a name
And you are a player without a game

And ooo, it doesn't matter what you do
and hey, it doesn't matter what you say
'Cause you are invisible to the world
And ooo, it doesn't matter what you do

Nobody's asking for your advice
You don't know the truth so how could you lie
How does it feel to be a background song
You're never right and you're never wrong

'Cause you are leader without a goal
And you are preacher without a soul
