

Serenity, Coldness Kills

Where you have been when frost came in Where did you spend your days in fading light where colors turn to grey in grey Alone I roam these frozen lands
I fear your track is covered under snow your signs of life all lost and gone

(Chorus:)

Winter has come with mourning
Promised by fall one day
This coldness kills the flame inside
Life it ends in white

The sky is grey and northwinds blow Sunlight hides behind a veil that somehow blurs my sight how can I ever find you?
Snowflakes like needles on my face Pray for the wolves to go their own ways at least for one last time
Last time

Winter has come with mourning
Promised by fall one day
This coldness kills the flame inside
And all is white (Repeat Chorus)

Chorus 2x
this coldness kills what you could save but you are all too far away