

Serenity, Sheltered (By The Obscure)

Here the trees have eyes and this gloomy house mistaken for a shelter opens wide to swallow you
You don't have to run
At the forest's edge you feel that this is where they hide observing you

(Chorus:)
We are your shelter in the night
Claws of cold will hold you tight Oh so eerie is the world we belong

Where the headless ride and the autumn world has sunken into twilight you feel safe
You feel like home

Chorus

Repeat Chorus
Far away from shallow minds
It's not too late to see the signs
The day will come when you return to the obscure
