

Set Your Goals, This Very Moment

I value you more than you will ever know!

I know I'm not the only one concerned about where this has gone.
The feelings that we both once shared,
they still exist, they went nowhere.

And you, you know it's true.
For you I am still here!
I'd hate to see it end this way.
It plagues my conscience every day.
And I want nothing more.
All I need lies in you!
Don't say this is the end.

I know I'm not the only one
who wishes we could get along.
Hanging out from 8 to 3,
and never wanting to fall asleep.

I just hope that you
will work with me
to make this right.
We can't just give up.
It's not fair.

This road, it's long.
If it will work with me.
Then I can say
I did not give up.
It's not fair.

You know it's true.
Don't pretend that you don't!
Tomorrow if we don't speak
A piece of my heart you will keep.
And we, we know it's true.
This is harder than I thought!
This can't be how this ends...

This can't be how this ends!
You have me waiting.
(I'm waiting.)
Waiting in suspense.
I just don't want it.
Tell me where you stand.
Quit walking on that fence.

Are you ready now?
(So are you ready?)
We're taking this to slow.
Soon we'll have nothing left to show.

My time is running on
and it isn't slowing down.
Never on my side.
You hate when I'm around.

Show me, show me what you said
is what, what you truly meant.
Don't say that I have to lose another friend.

This very moment,

nothing else this important!
This very moment,
nothing else is this important!
Show me what you said
is truly what you meant...
