

Seven Channels, Superconnected

i hold the candle and the truth i see seems like i'm dreaming but i know i'm still awake hold me down through the broken part of me in case i try to run and escape you ask me the question

"are you superconnected with me and i'll come running after you" my friends say where did it go the face that always used to glow but i just don't know what to tell them now somehow i've lost the plot along the way i can't find the words to say but i know i'll find you there tonight try to find some kind of piece of mind a change of pace but i'm running out of time just when i know i'll find you there compress soul a vacant place that was torn from me revolve into your reality and i know i'll find you there tonight
