

Seven Mary Three, Blue Letter

Tell me why I'm here
In this empty house
My mind won't change
Will it now
Everything I thought that I put to rest

Everything wrong always the same
Everything gone Nothing has Changed

Blue letter over my head
I still remember every word you said
Held my breath so tightly
I never realized you did till now

There was paper box underneath her bed
Of everything she kept everything I said
Now There's a paper box but it's not me in there
What fades? What stays? Who forgets?
I'll never let you go there's a part of me no one has seen nothing can change
No one can touch I won't erase

Blue letter over my head
I still remember every thing we said
Held our hands so tightly
A look

I know I've found something that fits
Something that's Pure
Someone I can't Resist
I never thought it could be this good
I never thought I could ever move on
I never thanked you for what you did

A blue letter over my head
I still remember everything you said
Hold your breath and watch me
Walk away forever

A blue letter over my head
I still remember everything it said
Nothing is wrong nothing has changed
I'll always be there I'll see you again

I didn't then but I thank you now